

Join the premier organization for Pennsylvania's news editors

The Pennsylvania Society of News Editors (PSNE) offers you the opportunity to network with editors statewide and find real solutions to the challenges you face. In your role as an editor, you are under constant demands of fast-paced deadlines, newsroom management issues and ever-changing industry developments. PSNE offers editors the tools they need to meet these challenges with industry publications, conferences, legislative and legal assistance, seminars, workshops, contests and more!

Look what PSNE has to offer:

LEGAL AND LEGISLATIVE ASSISTANCE

- PNA's Legal Hotline provides answers to your questions on open records, libel and open meetings on deadline from the PNA's media law counsel.
- Regular updates on current legislative activity and PNA's lobbying efforts on behalf of the news media industry.

SEMINARS/WORKSHOPS/WEBINARS

- One-day seminars presented in newsrooms across the state and at the PNA Foundation, as well as quarterly webinars are available to PSNE members. Topics include social media, legal issues, reporting techniques, writing and editing enrichment.

PUBLICATIONS

- PSNE members receive a subscription to the state's leading news media industry publication, HEADLINES & DEADLINES - PNA's weekly electronic newsletter reporting on issues in the news media industry. PSNE members can also opt-in to receive PNA's Legal Update, a weekly e-newsletter on legal and legislative issues affecting the industry.

PENNSYLVANIA PRESS CONFERENCE

- The largest gathering of news media editorial personnel in the state, featuring sessions on timely topics, workshops and networking opportunities. Throughout this weekend, hundreds of outstanding writers, editors and photographers are recognized through various awards programs.

KEYSTONE PRESS AWARDS CONTEST

- The state's leading competition for newsroom personnel annually attracts more than 4,000 entries in seven circulation divisions and more than 20 categories.
- Winners are recognized at the annual awards banquet in conjunction with the Pennsylvania Press Conference.

QUARTERLY NEWSLETTER

- PSNE members receive a quarterly newsletter, which features upcoming trainings, webinars, updates from the president and other member related topics.

Application for Membership

Membership in PSNE is $35 per year for non-daily newspapers; daily newspapers and online publications; and $5 for student newspaper members. Membership is open to all persons (editors, reporters, etc.) who are employees of PNA member organizations.
