

PNA Hall of Famers

The Pennsylvania Newspaper Hall of Fame was a project of the PNA Foundation dedicated to honoring newspaper men and women who excelled in their profession and community life.

Members are:

Benjamin Franklin Bache, Philadelphia

William Bigler, Clearfield

Nellie Bly, Pittsburgh

P.C. Boyle, Oil City

William Bradord, III, Philadelphia

Simon Cameron, Harrisburg

George J. Campbell, Pittsburgh

Mathew Carey, Philadelphia

Thomas Cooper, Sunbury

Cyrus H.K. Curtis, Philadelphia

Richard Harding Davis, Philadelphia

John Dickinson, Carlisle

Paul R. Eyerly, Bloomsburg

Benjamin Franklin, Philadelphia

Frederic A. Godcharles, Milton

William Goddard, Philadelphia

William Penn Hastings, Milton

Dietrick Lamade, Williamsport

Edward Towner Leech, Pittsburgh

E.J. Lynett, Scranton

W.R. Lynett, Scranton

Alexander McClure, Duncannon

William L. McLean, Jr., Philadelphia

Frederic E. Manson, Williamsport

John L. Mead, Sr., Erie

Charles M. Meredith, Quakertown

David A. Miller, Allentown

William Nunn, Pittsburgh

John O'Hara, Pottsville

Thomas Paine, Philadelphia

Christopher Perry, Philadelphia

William Reimert, Allentown

Howard Reynolds, Quarryville

Fred Fuller Shedd, Philadelphia

John F. Short, Clearfield

Daniel N. Slep, Altoona

Charles B. Spatz, Boyertown

M. Raymond Springle, Pittsburgh

E.J. Stackpole, Harrisburg

James Hale Steinman, Lancaster

John L. Stewart, Washington

Mark Sullivan, Phoenixville

E.A. Sweeny, Greensburg

Ida Minerva Tarbell, Meadville

Bayard Taylor, Phoenixville

Edwin A. Van Valkenburg, Wellsboro

Mrs. Robert Lee Vann, Pittsburgh

Timothy M. Williams, Harrisburg

T.R. Williams, Pittsburgh

Talcot Williams, Philadelphia

J.H. Zerbey, Sr., Pottsville